Neumaier to Resign at Paltz in Sept. '72

JOHN J. NEUMAIER

NEW PALTZ
Dr. John J. Neumaier today announced his intention to resign as president of the State University College at New Paltz, effective Sept. 1, 1972.

Dr. Neumaier did not cite any one particular reason for leaving New Paltz; and did not detail specific plans for the future.

Neumaier announced his resignation at a meeting today with representatives of the administration, faculty, staff and student body.

A college spokesman said that "outside pressures did not in any way" contribute to Neumaier's decision to vacate the college presidency.

Neumaier's decision to resign was first made known in an October 19 letter to Ernest Boyer, Chancellor of the New York State University system.

His resignation will be presented to the State University's Board of Trustees when they meet Tuesday and Wednesday in New York City. Dr. Neumaier said he will not comment on his decision until after the Trustee Board acts on his resignation.

Financial difficulties at the New Paltz college are seen as a major reason for Neumaier's decision to resign. "It has become increasingly difficult," he said today, "to try to direct the college's course, particularly in the midst of the current fiscal crisis." He added, "even minimum services... have become difficult to provide."

"New Paltz has been subjected to severe budget reductions this year," Neumaier added, "more than a million dollars from the budget originally recommended by the Governor."

Neumaier also alluded to the public criticism of his administration during the campus disturbances of Spring, 1970, terming that criticism, "a concerted campaign against a college administration which was unwilling to conform to the demands of those who believed that suppression was the only proper response to a student challenge of established authority."

"Happily for our community," he added, "and for the larger society, there are leaders and citizens in the region who have not accepted such authoritarian attitudes."

Dr. Neumaier, however, did not indicate that the criticisms against his administration led to his decision to resign.

Personal plans for the future were also cited as a reason for his departure. Neumaier said he intends to "seek a new way of serving society" and to "refresh" his "perspectives."

"One way to do so," he said, "is to become again simply a member of the academic community."

"I want now to renew my intellectual, emotional and social energies so that I can participate more effectively in the struggle for human liberation," he added.

"I hope that my resignation will afford me a greater opportunity to address myself in new ways and with renewed strength to these issues."

Lawrence A. Quilty, chairman of the College Council, said today that Neumaier's decision to resign is "very regrettable." "Dr. Neumaier has done a great job in the administration of college affairs," he told The Freeman.

Quilty said the College Council, comprised of area community leaders, will begin the selection of a new president shortly. "We will seek the advice of students, faculty and administration in selecting a new president," said Quilty.

Living Council May Rescind Car Exemption

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Phase 2 of President Nixon's anti-inflation program barely under way, the Cost of Living Council called a session today to decide whether to rescind a last-minute exemption allowing car prices to go up without advance notice.

The council said Friday that companies required under Phase 2 regulation to clear price increases in advance with the government could boost prices without notice to cover the cost of wage increases due their workers between now and the first of the year.

But Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. urged the council Saturday to reconsider.

Grayson also predicted that any adverse affect that uncertainty over Phase 2, which began Sunday, has had on the stock market would clear up by the end of the week.

Pay Board Chairman George H. Boldt, appearing Sunday with Grayson on the CBS interview program "Face the Nation," said the board will meet Tuesday to decide whether teachers and other groups may collect retroactively pay raises frozen during the wage-price freeze period that expired Saturday night.

But Boldt declined to predict what the board would decide. "We're going to consider it," he said. "There's a chance of anything, of course."

The board already has ruled against allowing general retroactive pay raises, but has agreed to consider individual cases on their merits.

Grayson promised Saturday that, if the Cost of Living Council approves his request to rescind its earlier ruling, the Price Commission would change its regulations to "assure that these requested price increases are reviewed within 72 hours."

He said Sunday that the 72-hour limit would apply to all price-increase notifications, not just those that would be exempt under the Cost of Living Council's ruling.

Senate resumes work today on $19.5 billion tax-cut bill. Story on Page 16.

Under present regulations, companies with annual sales of $100 million or more must report proposed price increases to the government in advance.

Such increases may go into effect within 30 days after notification if no ruling has been made.

Smaller companies may raise prices without notice, but can be ordered to rescind them if the government decides the increases were too large.

Meanwhile, the Senate resumed work today on a tax-cut bill proposed by President Nixon to spur the economy and boosted by Congress to provide additional tax relief for individuals.

Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally, returning from an overseas trip, said the United States is prepared to let the dollar float on the international money market for "almost an indefinite period."

Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, estimated in Detroit that 98 per cent of his union want labor's five members on the Pay Board to "stay in and fight from within."

Some labor leaders have urged that organized labor boycott the Pay Board and withdraw its support from President Nixon's policy.

—The executive board of the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department, meeting in Miami, said Phase 2 regulations would protect big corporations, but not the nation's workers, against inflation.

—David Selden, president of the American Federation of Teachers, said in Providence, R.I., that the wage-price freeze had a "devastating effect" on teachers and said that the "peculiarity of our situation shows that teachers are special cases and should be granted special exceptions."

Meanwhile, in Detroit, the Ford Motor Co. has hiked the prices of its domestically produced Pinto and the imported Capri, ending the era of the U.S.-built auto with a price tag of less than $2,000.

Increases on the Pinto line average $94, while the German-built Capri will go up $119. The price boosts have government approval.

HOSTAGES RELEASED UNHARMED — Two armed men who killed a Manila policeman Sunday, released 10 hostages, including eight children, apparently unharmed after a 13-hour ordeal. The gunmen escaped from a village home in Taytay Town, 10 miles southeast of Manila, and said they might surrender after conferring with their lawyers.

They took four hostages with them and then released them after reaching their lawyer's house in an undisclosed place in suburban Mandaluyong. Communist China Takes U.N. Seat

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Communist China claimed its seat in the United Nations today, formally taking its place with the Soviet Union and the United States as a diplomatic superpower.

The first item on the General Assembly agenda after China's entrance was debate on a Soviet proposal for a world disarmament conference. Discussions on the issue began today.

The seating of the Communist Chinese came three weeks to the day after delegates approved an Albanian resolution admitting the People's Republic and tossing out the Taiwan-based Nationalist Chinese.

China's seat was claimed by Deputy Foreign Minister Chiao Kuan-hua, a tall, imposing figure with an impressive list of diplomatic credentials. He will occupy the same chair once held by Nationalist China between Chile and Colombia.

The delegation led by Chiao was being formally greeted by General Assembly President Adam Malik of Indonesia. Malik then was opening the session to a series of welcoming speeches.

Chiao and Huang Hua, Communist China's former ambassador to Canada, met for 50 minutes Sunday with Secretary General Thant in Thant's 11th floor room at Le Roy Hotel in Manhattan. Thant is recuperating from a bleeding peptic ulcer and may leave the hospital today or Tuesday.

See editorial on Page 6.

Huang will be the permanent delegate at the U.N. and will represent Communist China on the important Security Council.

For the most part, the time since the new delegation arrived last Thursday has been uneventful.

About 500 demonstrators gathered outside the delegation's temporary headquarters at the Hotel Roosevelt Sunday, protesting the expulsion of Nationalist China and the admission of the Communist delegation.

One young Chinese—a student at Pace College on the edge of New York's Chinatown—was arrested for burning a small Communist Chinese flag during the 2½ hour protest.

Some members of the Communist delegation watched the demonstration from their 14th floor rooms but there were no exchanges.

There was a small protest group at Kennedy International Airport when the delegation arrived from Paris, but police shunted the demonstrators to another terminal out of view of the arriving Chinese.

The rest of the time since their arrival has been spent in paying courtesy calls on the 22 nations which cosponsored the Albanian resolution, and setting up their work space.

Assaulted Official to Protest Conduct of Kingston Coaches

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

PORT JERVIS
George Parsons, a football official who was slugged by a Kingston High player in Saturday's tumultuous contest between the Maroons and Newburgh Free Academy, said today he would file a formal protest with State Commissioner of Education Gerald P. Nyquist on the incident.

Parsons, a member of a three-man Port Jervis team that worked the game, said he would also file protest with John Archer, secretary of the New York State Public High School Athletic Association, the Section 9 football chairman and Ernie Downer of Cold Spring, president of the football officials board.

Parsons said the protest would be based on the failure of the Kingston coaching staff to properly control their players and poor policing of the sidelines.

"It was cheap shot," said Parsons, referring to the punch allegedly thrown at him by Kingston's star halfback, Joe Riley, during a melee that followed a 15-yard penalty call against Kingston for piling on.

Parsons however specifically identified Riley as the player who attacked him.

Kingston High and Saugerties football teams receive post-season invites. Story on Page 10.

"I saw him coming from the corner of my eye," Parsons explained, "then realized he was coming straight at me. I didn't have any reason to believe he would do anything like that when—bang—he clobbered me."

The field judge said his Riley.

identification of Riley was positive. "He was wearing a different number than when the game started because he had his original shirt torn off during the game."

Parsons, who said he would be examined by a physician for possible rib injuries, also argued that a member of the Kingston coaching staff hurled obscenities at him when he (the coach) tried to tell the field judge that the player was not

"He called me a stupid," said Parsons. I replied, "I might be the first, but not the second." He could not identify the Kingston coach, he said.

Parsons also charged that an unidentified adult Kingston spectator had to be restrained from attacking him after the game. "It's a little ironical, too," said Parsons, "but after the game three of the officials' jackets were missing from the Kingston bench."

Israel Sabotage Plot

Intelligence Blunder Bared

TEL AVIV (UPI) — The Israeli government finally has permitted newspapers to print details of its worst intelligence blunder, an abortive 1954 attempt to sabotage U.S.-Egyptian relations by blowing up the U.S. Embassy in Cairo.

The apparent reason for lifting the 17-year-old censorship on the case is the wedding of one of the participants, Victorine Marcelle Nino. She is getting married Nov. 23 and Prime Minister Golda Meir will be on hand personally to give the bride away.

The plot became known as the "Lavon Affair," after the Defense Minister Pinhas Lavon.

According to the newspaper accounts Sunday, Egypt arrested 14 Israeli spies in 1954, and charged them with plotting to blow up the U.S. Embassy in Cairo and the U.S. Consulate in Alexandria in order to dissuade Washington from getting involved in Egypt following the British withdrawal.

What led to the ring's downfall, the newspapers said, was the capture of Philip Nathanson when a detonating device went off in his hands near a Cairo movie theater.

Nathanson changed his name to Ben Nathan and is now a news photographer in Tel Aviv. According to the newspapers, two of the ringleaders escaped, one committed suicide, one person was tortured to death, two were executed, including a woman, served all or part of their sentences before being released to Israel in a 1968 prisoner exchange.

Besides Miss Nino, an English literature and arts student at Tel Aviv University, and Ben Nathan, the other member of the ring living in Israel were identified as a businessman, an engineer, a doctoral candidate in agriculture and a student in Middle East studies.

Following the smashing of the Israeli intelligence ring, Lavon—now 67 and seriously ill in a hospital—resigned, denying that he ever gave the order for the operation against the U.S. offices.

Area Fatals Reported

Two Hospitalized in School Bus Accident

By WALTER S. CLARK

WITTENBURG

A 15-year-old girl and a bus driver were hospitalized while 21 other students at the Ontario Central School narrowly escaped serious injury at 7:20 a.m. today when the bus in which they were riding reportedly skidded out of control on icy pavement on the Yanketown Pond Road, rolled down a 50-foot embankment and crashed through the front of a house.

The bus accident was one of a rash of highway mishaps in the area that included fatal accidents reported in Poughkeepsie this morning and a death crash that claimed the life of an 18-year-old Poughkeepsie youth in the Town of New Paltz on Sunday.

The New Paltz accident occurred on Route 299 at Butter-ville Road. The Poughkeepsie fatality was reported on Route 28 shortly after 6 a.m. today. A spat of freezing rain this morning slicked Ulster County highways in many areas.

Classes at Saugerties Central School were delayed this morning at least for one hour because buses were unable to move due to ice on the pavement.

New York State Thruway crews were out salting and sanding icy spots on bridges and approaches to the super-highway, police said.

Ice slick conditions prevailed in many sections of Ulster County outside of the city, and extended into the Capital District and Mohawk Valley.

A warming trend later helped to alleviate the traffic hazard. Dr. Frank M. Marlow, superintendent of schools in the Ontario District, said the contracted school bus was operated by Vera Thomassen, 53, of Shokan, and it was carrying 22 students to the morning classes at the time of the accident.

The vehicle was on a hill, the pavement of which was treacherous and slippery, when it apparently skidded out of control and went down the embankment into the house. The owners of the property were not immediately noted, but the front of the residence was heavily damaged. No one was at home at the time, it was said.

The injured student, Linda Vandendooren of Maverick Road, Woodstock, was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance as a precaution. The bus driver also was taken to the hospital by the ambulance service. The girl suffered a sprained ankle, Dr. Marlow said, and the woman received treatment for a wrenched back.

The other students managed to leave the bus without incident. Woodstock police investigated.

"The students were very fortunate," Dr. Marlow noted.

The sheriff's office tentatively identified the victim of the Poughkeepsie fatality as Louis Perry, 67, of Route 28, Box 79A, West Hurley. He was the operator of one of the vehicles involved in the three-car collision, it was reported.

The other cars were driven by Robert Freer, 55, of Port Ewen, and Robert Jones, 55, of Greene.

N.Y. Deputy Richard Ostrander reported that Andrew Perry, 44, of 6 Lindsley Avenue Kingston, a passenger in the Perry car, and Freer were both taken to Benedictine Hospital for treatment of injuries.

Ostrander said Perry was driving west crossing a bridge on icy pavement when the vehicle collided headon with the Freer car. The Jones vehicle then crashed into the rear of Freer's car police said.

Meanwhile, Highland State Police identified the victim of the New Paltz crash as Michael Johnson, of 333 Mansion Street, Poughkeepsie. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Kingston Hospital where he and others injured in the mishap were taken by Fatum's Ambulance.

The other vehicle involved in the fatality was operated by Lena Hendrickson, 58, of 9518 225th Street, Queens, according to report of Troopers George J. Hazlett and Francis J. Kransinski.

State Police reported the cars operated by Johnson and the Queens woman were traveling in opposite directions along Route 299 when the accident occurred in the westbound lane. Dominick Reid, 17, of 67 Academy Street, Poughkeepsie, a passenger in Johnson's car suffered abrasions and contusions of the chest, head and chin. His condition was reported as fair at Kingston Hospital.

Passengers in the Hendrickson car were listed as Tina Hendrickson, 58, who suffered injuries of the face and legs, and Sheila Otis, 53, of Huguenot Street, New Paltz, who was treated for mouth lacerations.

Parochial Teachers Strike: Little Affect in County

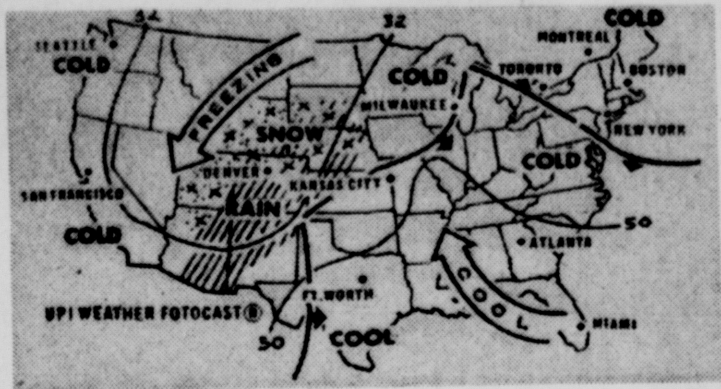

KINGSTON Even if the lay teachers of the New York Archdiocese do go out on strike next Monday, local Catholic schools will not be affected.

This was the view of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Harold E. Hicks, district superintendent of schools for Ulster and Sullivan Counties for the Archdiocese of New York.

Lay teachers of the Archdiocese school system voted Sunday to reject a final contract offer by the Catholic Association of Schools but postponed strike action until next Monday. After a 27-hour bargaining session at the Commodore Hotel, teachers union head Barry Ryan announced that the two sides were extremely far apart. Key issues are wages and job tenure.

Msgr. Hicks said that John A. Coleman High School lay teachers are not members of the Union Local 2092 involved in the current negotiations. Local 2092 represents elementary, parochial and private high schools in New York, the Bronx and Richmond counties, and seven upstate counties including Dutchess and Ulster. Coleman High School is an archdiocesan run school and does not come under the union jurisdiction. Msgr. Hicks estimated that there were very few members in Ulster County—eight at the most. He said that most were "dismayed" over the possibility of a strike. Msgr. Hicks said that he anticipated no problems locally as "we have our responsibility to the children and schools will remain open regardless of what happens."

Strike Near In Newburgh

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (UPI) — The president of the Newburgh Teachers Association claims a teacher's strike looms as "a very real possibility" unless an impasse in contract talks is broken.

Association President Philip Wagner said many of his organization's 800 members have told him they are willing to go out on strike to back contract demands.

Assemblyman H. Clark Bell Slated to Attend Meeting

ALBANY units may coordinate their efforts. The meeting will be held at the Albany Hotel (R-Woodstock) will attend a chaired by Assemblyman Frank (R-Castile), who heads the Governmental Operations Committee.

Assemblyman H. Clark Bell will attend a meeting of the Governmental Operations Committee on Tuesday, Nov. 16 to discuss legislation and current problems with retirement of state employees.

Bell is chairman of the Governmental Operations Sub-Committee on Retirement and Pension. He will attend the session having on the state retirement next week in order that the two systems, and to formulate plans for new legislation if it is necessary. In addition, due to budget cuts made earlier this year, there is a backlog of work in processing these applications, and there could be a problem state can fairly and successfully keep its obligations to those employees who wish to retire.

Army Gag Rule

If you're a late TV watcher and if you're a fan of the talk show presided over very efficiently by Dick Cavett, then you were among the many who waited in vain last week for Lt. Col. Anthony Herbert to make an appearance.

But don't blame the colonel.

Blame the U.S. Army whose mission it is to help protect this great country not only from fighters in foreign uniforms but also, apparently, from such as Colonel Herbert who had the courage to buck the system and has paid dearly for it.

Herbert, one of the most decorated enlisted men in the Korean conflict and publicized throughout the armed forces as a model soldier, went up rapidly through the ranks, attaining an important command post in Vietnam.

But he found that fame was fleeting after he criticized two superiors, a general and a full colonel, charging they had ignored atrocities committed by American soldiers.

The Army responded by promoting the criticized general, relieving Herbert of his command and reassigning him to "important duties" as assistant maintenance director at Fort McPherson, Ga.

The top brass naturally has denied Herbert's allegations but has never refuted them. But this did not prevent an "unfavorable efficiency report" from going into the officer's files.

Most, if not all this information has been made public previously so it's hard to determine what the Army felt it was gaining by putting a gag on the colonel. Nevertheless, that's just what was done. He had been granted a two-day leave late in October.

Arrangements were made for him to appear on the TV talk show during this period. But when the news filtered down to Ft. McPherson, his commanding officer reportedly said, "If you're planning to go on the Cavett show, you can just forget it."

The highly dubious move certainly isn't going to win too many friends for the armed forces at a time when it needs friends.

Almost simultaneous with the gag proceedings came another order, this time from President Nixon himself, rescinding the unfavorable efficiency rating and approving a retroactive promotion for Herbert.

But in vain. He has asked to retire and is now slated to leave the Army next February. Thus will end a 22-year career of a soldier who blames personal harassment by the Army—as well as intolerable stress on his family—for forcing his decision, "a decision more painful to me than the five times I've been shot and the three times I've been bayoneted."

The Army has had more than its share of dark hours of late, and the Herbert case must rank as one of its darkest.

UN Assessments

When the United Nations fixed the assessment for membership for the People's Republic of China at $7.1 million, or 4 per cent of the general budget, there were some raised eyebrows. The explanation was that the assessment is the same as had been laid on Nationalist China, when it claimed that it represented all the Chinese people.

When diplomats want to justify a miscarriage of justice, they are always able to produce supports. Yes, Nationalist China did represent all China when the United Nations was founded, but even then Mao Tse-tung and his Communist hordes were knocking at the gates and it wasn't long when they controlled all the mainland and the Nationalists were restricted to the island of Taiwan, with 14 million people. Mainland China is believed to have 700 million people, 50 times as many as the island. It spends many millions on nuclear arms development, many more millions on foreign aid to bolster friends and allies. A proportionate assessment would be 50 times $7 million, which no one expects, but surely it should be gauged by the population, economy, size and influence, of the new Communist giant in the United Nations, not one of its pygmies.

This is a good time to recast the monetary responsibilities of the members of the United Nations. At its founding, the other members tried to foist a 50 per cent levy of the cost on the United States and finally settled on 31.2 per cent of an initial budget of $19,627,964. With contributions to special agencies, and the peace-keeping forces, the American taxpayer pays 40 per cent and the budget has risen to $215 million.

Jack Anderson Says

Dems Ready Substitute Eco Plan

WASHINGTON—Democratic leaders have decided to give President Nixon the basic economic tools he has requested to stimulate prosperity. But if the economy is still sluggish next spring, they will push through their own program.

The President is counting largely upon business incentives to encourage industrial leaders to expand their operations. The Democrats obligingly will provide him with investment tax credits and faster tax write-offs.

But at the same time, the Democrats are dubious about these measures. They point out that industry already is operating far under capacity. It is unlikely, they therefore argue, that businessmen will expand their facilities as long as their existing facilities aren't fully utilized.

The nation's last economic stabilizer, Michael DiSalle, is also assuring his fellow Democrats that the economy can be stabilized if the government has the will and the muscle to do it. Half-way measures, he warns, won't work.

The President will be given a chance, however, to reinvigorate the economy. If his measures don't work, the Democrats will adopt their own measures.

They will cut the consumers' taxes to stimulate demand, push through job-creating programs to increase employment, and adopt public works programs to spur the economy.

A House subcommittee is preparing to hold hearings in Panama to find out whether the State Department is selling out U.S. interests in the Panama Canal.

Panama is seeking sovereignty over the famed canal. This is now the subject of delicate negotiations between the State Department and the Panamanian government.

But Rep. John Murphy, D-N.Y., chairman of the Panama Canal subcommittee, suspects the State Department is more anxious to appease Panamanian strongman Omar Torrijos than to uphold the U.S. rights.

Murphy laid his worries before his parent Merchant Marine Committee on November 8 behind closed doors. He warned that the State Department may be giving away too much in Panama and asked for authority to send investigators to Panama to prepare for hearings.

"Concessions by the U.S.," he told his colleagues glumly, "are the order of the day." He said the U.S. apparently is going to give Panama almost everything it wants except for actual control and defense of the canal operations.

Down the drain would go the legal rights of U.S. citizens living in the Canal Zone, most commercial rights of U.S. corporations and a good deal of land belonging to the U.S., he said.

He pleaded that he didn't want to upset the negotiations, but "if we do not meet our responsibilities in these areas, no one will do it for us."

The committee approved Murphy's request. In response, he announced behind closed doors that he would hold hearings late this month in the U.S., then send staff members to Panama to arrange hearings on the spot. Among the witnesses he hopes to call, he said, are Defense Secretary Mel Laird, the State Department negotiators, and Canal Zone governors, both past and present.

Murphy said he would also like to hear from Panamanian leaders, including Torrijos himself.

When the State Department got wind of Murphy's plans, the diplomats of Foggy Bottom howled as if someone had ripped the stripes off their striped pants.

Wrote Assistant Secretary David Abshire huffily to Murphy: "The presence of your committee in the Republic of Panama and/or the Canal Zone could seriously affect the course of these negotiations to the detriment of U.S. interests."

"The mere fact that hearings are being held on foreign soil constitutes an encroachment on the rights of the foreign government and the rights of its nationals."

Until the State Department abrogates those rights, however, the U.S. has sovereignty over the Canal Zone. This entitles Congress to hold hearings there. Murphy, therefore, has decided to go ahead with them.

Mill's Low Return
Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., is busy on the hustings in search of a presidential nomination while his backers have been soliciting campaign money through ads and direct mail. Full-page ads have recently appeared in the Washington Post and Los Angeles Times.

But Mills isn't having much luck either with the voters or the money men. Polls show him far down the list of favored candidates, and his headquarters reports ruefully that the ads and direct mail have netted him only $0 cents in contributions.

Bruce Blossat Says

Good Politicians Required

WASHINGTON (NEA) — As the race for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination demonstrates anew, a good many Americans hold to a childish hope that they can have politics without politicians.

Strongly heard in this campaign is the wish of many that somehow or other the Democratic party could choose as its nominee an "untraditional" figure — meaning one not bearing the marks of the ordinary politician.

Against the backdrop of the "turnoff" of some young people and others from the "system," this wish often seems terribly new and urgent. But at root it really is not that at all.

The truth is, Americans through their history have been trying to have their politics without politicians.

The most recent example in which they got their way was the two-time election of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as president. More than a few historians, however, lay some of the shortcomings of his administration (like failure to build a stronger Republican party) to his political greenness. Politics goes on, and Eisenhower simply left it to other people.

Though his 1952-56 Democratic opponent, the late Adlai Stevenson had something of a political background (governor of Illinois), he, too, was widely admired as being perhaps more literary than political.

Stevenson fed the notion by exhibiting open contempt for politicians. Once, when he was heading east on a trip, a friend asked: "Are you going to Washington?" Stevenson replied: "Thank heavens, no. If I did, I'd have to talk to those awful politicians."

But these men are only the recent manifestation of what is an age-old American attitude. For nearly three decades after the Civil War, Americans kept nominating and sometimes electing war heroes, usually with little or no political experience. And some historians would argue that the conduct of government in that era was a great deal less than exemplary. Politics simply was in other, less visible hands.

Some scholars say that the U.S. Constitution was born in revulsion against politics, that it is not accidental this document took no account of the inevitable growth of political parties.

Certain it is that from the beginning the American people have looked down upon politicians as men of low order. In their disdain for politics, they either tried to find somebody outside this realm, or abandoned the process to self-serving people who, more often than not, wound up choosing a mediocre figure.

The wonder in all this is that we ever got an Abraham Lincoln or a general turned good president, like Andrew Jackson. Luckily we were favored with strength in the White House at critical moments in our history. But the long roster of presidents reeks with mediocrity. Americans truly have let it be so.

This present quest by some for an "untraditional" candidate is, then, not new, it comes right out of our history. Maybe we ought to learn from that. Maybe we ought to stop yearning for generals, scholars, engineers and poets, and just try to find better politicians.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The Puzzlement of Politics

The reason politics is a fascinating study is that no one understands the subject. We voters comprehend a little here, a little there — usually when it is too late to do anything about it. I was on the Mike Douglas show with William F. Buckley Jr. and I asked: "What is a Conservative?"

He placed both hands behind his head, wrapped one leg around the other twice, licked his upper lip and grinned. "I don't know," he said cagily. "My mother brought me up to believe that whatever Jim Bishop says is gospel."

My mother didn't bring me up that way. Mr. Buckley is an intelligent Conservative. An intelligent Conservative is one who believes that the country is going straight to hell, but a Liberal is anybody scared to death of a Conservative. An ultra-Liberal is one who believes that Angela Davis is a salvage job.

My monumental ignorance of American politics impels me to read the other columnists. All across the spectrum I am a bewildered, confused, rotten capitalist who doesn't know his Lerner from his Kipling. I not only read, the political columnists — I study them.

It does not make very good sense to learn that Mr. Muskie (Liberal?) does not think a black could make it as Vice President, while Mr. Nixon (Conservative?) prepares to run off to Peking for a round of hand kissing. Leonid Brezhnev, the well-fed mother of Communism, devours steak and caviar in Havana while watching the Castro experiment of slow starvation for the masses.

Spiggy Agnew (Conservative?) uses the American press to foment a revolution against the American press. The Congress understands greed, but doesn't seem to understand that the two-party system is now shattered. Conservative Northern Republicans now bundle up with Conservative Southern Democrats; Northern big-city Liberals romance the Southern Liberal negro. Nothing, my friend, is as it seems to be.

I could trust a guy if I knew which team he's on. It was Franklin D. Roosevelt, in August 1944, who returned from a trip to Hawaii and Alaska and called in Steve Early and Harry Hopkins and said: "In this campaign, don't aim my speeches at the liberal Democrats. Those votes are in my pocket. Don't try to convert the conservative Republicans. It will not work. Somewhere between the two, who are rather evenly divided, there is an area of 20 per cent independent voters."

"I want all my speeches turned toward them." He was right, Thomas E. Dewey called the Roosevelt administration a "group of tired old quarrelsome men" and won Republican applause, and lost the election.

I belong in that gray group. Translated, this means that I do not know what I'm doing. I am opposed to foreign aid, the Soviet Union, an unbalanced budget, but I favor labor, a classless society, social security, medicare and fewer drones on the relief roles. I may inaugurate my own political party of one.

For example, I admire Senator Mike Mansfield, but I feel that every time he takes the pipe out of his mouth he sticks his foot in it. Henry Kissinger is a Martian. John Mitchell's greatest mistake, in my opinion, was in getting married.

And yet, I think I can detect a Liberal from a Conservative. A Liberal says: "Everything is going to work out all right," a Conservative is in a state of perpetual outrage because things might turn out all right. A Communist says: "Oh boy! Wait till you see the wonderful world of tomorrow." The reactionary states: "None of us will live to see it."

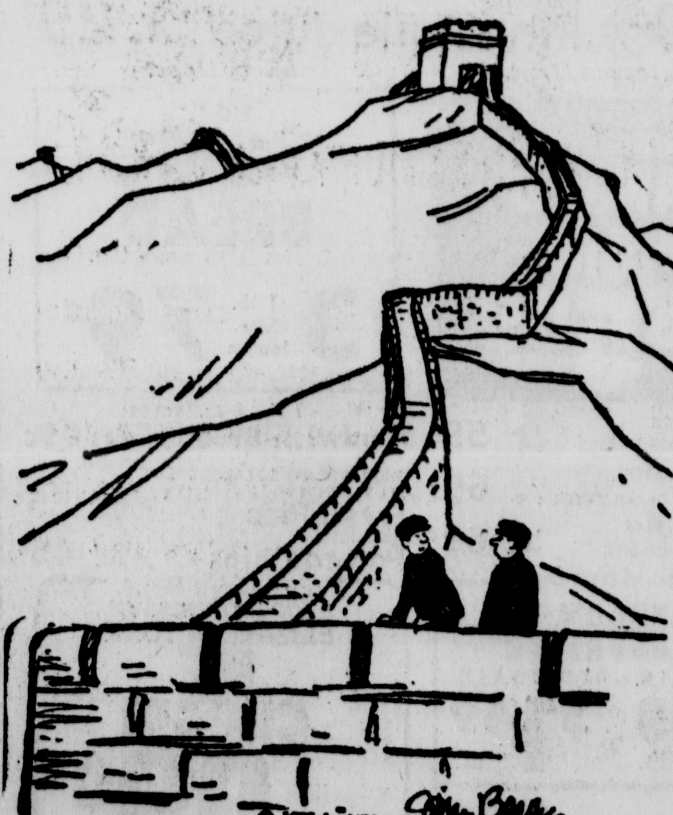

America hasn't had a foreign policy since the days of James Monroe. We play it by ear from day to day so that Secretary of State Rogers can read it in the newspapers.

If you wish to misunderstand American politics — a life-time hobby of mine — it requires unremitting study and a good head for bad news. If you read anything hopeful or noble, you misunderstand the situation. You're listening too fast. Nothing good ever comes of good news because there is nothing anyone can do about it. But bad news? Ah, ha! This constitutes the best news of all because it gives us an excuse for nail biting, insomnia, and sorting our minds for a solution.

Keep your mind on the serious issues, like what does a baker think about the sale of Girl Scout cookies; why do we have a monopoly of botulism; will golf supplant marriage; will the real Pat Nixon stand up; why don't we all go back where we came from; kick a cop.

Ponder the imponderables. Work hard and someday you will reach the stage where you will no longer think you misunderstand politics; you will know it and achieve peace of mind...

Spring-Kalimeras Wedding Announced

Miss Louise Marie Spring of 38 McDonald Street, Saugerties, became the bride of Michael C. Kalimeras, 3 Grove Street, Kingston, on Sunday, Oct. 24 at 2 p.m. in St. George Greek Orthodox Church. The Rev. John Pittes officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Barbara Genthner, cousin of the bride, provided traditional wedding selections. Arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the altar. Bouquets of white pompons, heather and white bows marked the family pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Spring of 38 McDonald Street, Saugerties, and the bridegroom is the son of Christopher Kalimeras of Cyprus and the late Maria Kalimeras.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore an A-line gown of radiance crepe. Pearls and sequins were applied on the gown and lace accented the neck, sleeves, hem and train. A Dior bow of radiance crepe, encrusted with pearls, sequins and bugle beads, secured her slick illusion veil and she carried a crescent bouquet of white chrysanthemums, roses, stephanotis and yellow sweet-heart roses.

The bride's sister Mrs. Jeannette Harris, 92 Partition Street, Saugerties, served as matron of honor in a gown of moss green crepe. Mrs. Harris carried a crescent bouquet of yellow cymbidium orchids, trimmed with moss green velvet ribbon.

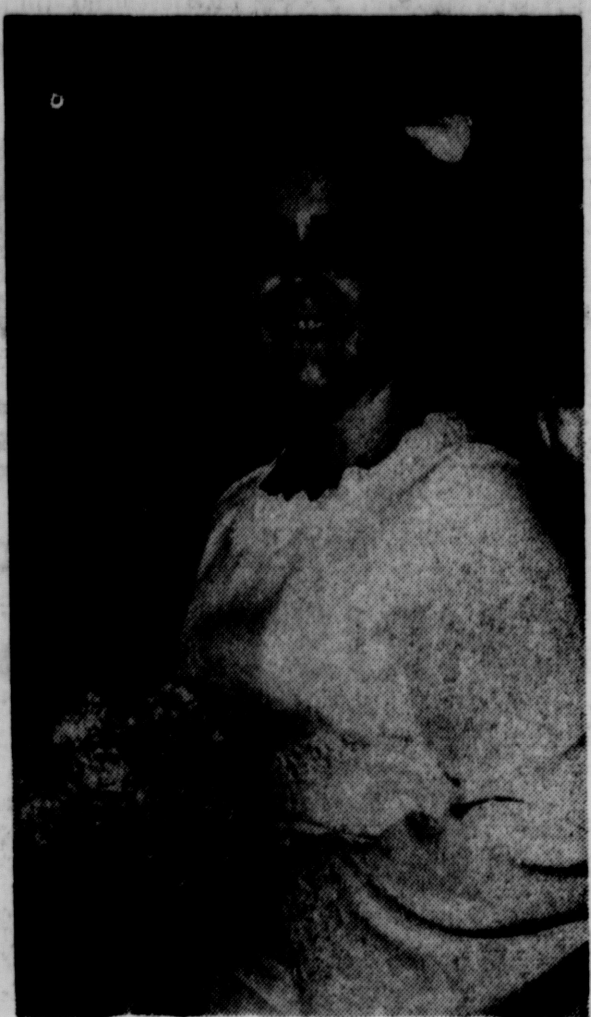

The honor attendant made the bride's gown her own gown, and that worn by the mother of the bride.

Costas Kalimeras, Kingston, was best man for his brother. Ushers were Richard Genthner, Berkley Heights, N. J., cousin of the bride; and Andy Proestos, Kingston.

A reception for 180 guests was held at Glasco Firemen's Hall, Glasco.

Mrs. Kalimeras is a 1967 graduate of Saugerties High School and is employed by the law firm of Napolitano, Kelly and Saccoman of Kingston as a legal secretary. Her husband was educated in Cyprus. He lived and worked in London, England for the past 12 years as a men's hair stylist and is now employed by Lou's Barber Shop, Boice's Lane, Kingston.

The couple will reside at 3 Grove Street, Kingston.

Ex-Nun Can't Shake 'Stigma' of Past

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
N. Y. News Synd., Inc. (© 1971 by Chicago Tribune)

DEAR ABBY: I am a 33-year-old ex-nun. I have been out of the convent for two years and am now in my fourth job. I do office work and am well trained for it. When I am asked about myself, I have always told the truth, and as soon as it is learned that I am a former nun, I am viewed with curiosity, suspicion and in some cases, contempt. The fact that I was a nun fascinates people (especially men), and wherever I go, I am questioned about it. I would like to forget it, but once someone knows, I am sunk.

I like this new job and want to stay. So far I haven't mentioned my life's story too soon because the truth might prejudice people right off the bat. Can you advise me?

EX-NUN

DEAR EX-NUN: Your problem is your excessive concern over what people will think about you when they learn the truth. Don't try to second guess them. If they're "fascinated" with the fact that you were a nun, so what? That's their problem. Don't make it yours.

DEAR ABBY: More than 25 years ago, I rescued two battered, unwanted babies from a 20-year-old mother and a cruel 22-year-old stepfather. The young mother tried to force her mother to take them, but her mother had a large family and refused to take on such an added burden. (The boys were two and three at the time.)

Finally the young mother put them out, and told them never to come back into that wretched little apartment over someone's garage. When darkness fell, a neighbor told me that these children were huddled on her back steps, like abandoned puppies, dirty, hungry and asleep.

I took the boys and asked their mother to let me keep them and she agreed gladly with no more emotion than she would show giving away some unwanted kittens. She promised to make the break clean and to never contact them in any way. The town was so bitter toward her and her husband, they left town.

The older boy has been a trial and heartbreak to us. I took him to psychiatrists, and psychologists. They all told me that his personality was damaged by his early mistreatment. He was hysterically nervous, a chronic bed-wetter, prone to steal, and a victim of screaming nightmares. He spent 10 months in a juvenile ward in a state psychiatric institution, which didn't seem to help him.

The younger boy did better, spending four years in the Air Force. He married a nice little girl (I'll call Anna) and they moved in with us. While my husband and I were on vacation a few months ago, their natural mother came to town and looked the boys up. Anna became very friendly with her, and now for the shocker: Anna and her husband have just become parents of a baby girl, whom they named for that woman!

I was stunned, crushed and amazed.

We have signed notes for them, given them money, and treated them as our own children. Please ask a psychiatrist, why, why, WHY?

DEAR NUMB: Intensive psychological studies are necessary to determine what mo-tivates people to behave as they do. On the face of it, it's hard to believe that this young couple didn't know how you would react, which leads to the natural conclusion. They didn't care..

CONFIDENTIAL to "ZOFIT" IN ATLANTA, GA.: I don't want to spoil your day, but your normal weight for the rest of your life is what you weighed when you were 25 years old.

SUBJECT

The topic of wigs is a very heady subject. Wigs and hairpieces have become big business. Women are now taking them more seriously than when they were introduced a few years ago. They are interested in how wigs are made, the care, the cost and the practicability. What started out to be a passing fancy has emerged as an industry that is constantly changing and improving. Wigs and hairpieces are within the range of most budgets, and are now considered a beauty necessity, especially for days when unexpected engagements arise. You need no longer wait. "Just look at my hair." Bring your wigs and hairpieces here for expert service. My staff, Fran and Carol, are very experienced in the beauty field. Datsun led the way for 23 laps in the California 500

The Datsun 510 pace car at the California 500 really got a work-out. Everytime the yellow flag was out, so was the Datsun Sedan. Through the heat and dust that got to 22 of 33 race cars, Datsun led the way. The 510's modified engine kept lap speeds over 100 MPH. It had all the speed and handling it needed to get in front and stay there.

The Datsun 510 may look like just another economy sedan. It's not. It's the only one with overhead cam engine, fully independent suspension, and disc brakes.

If you don't think that makes a difference...Drive a Datsun...then decide.

Appearing Tonight

MAUREEN FORRESTER

The Hudson Valley Philharmonic, with Claude Montoux conducting, will perform the second concert of its 1971-72 Artist series this evening at 8:30 o'clock at Kingston High School. Maureen Forrester, who has been described by Newsday as "one of the greatest contraltos of our time" will be the soloist with the regional orchestra.

The orchestra's program will include BEETHOVEN: Overture to Coriolanus and MOZART: Symphony No. 41, "Jupiter". Miss Forrester will sing BACH: Have Mercy, Lord, an aria from St. Matthew's Passion and MAHLER: Kindertotenlieder, or "songs about dead children."

Miss Forrester has been acclaimed by the San Francisco Chronicle for "the purity of her tone, the justness of her musicianship, the simplicity of her manner, and the subtle perfection of her phrasing."

Miss Forrester is often referred to as "the mistress of the art of song" and been cited as the definitive present day interpreter of Gustav Mahler's vocal music.

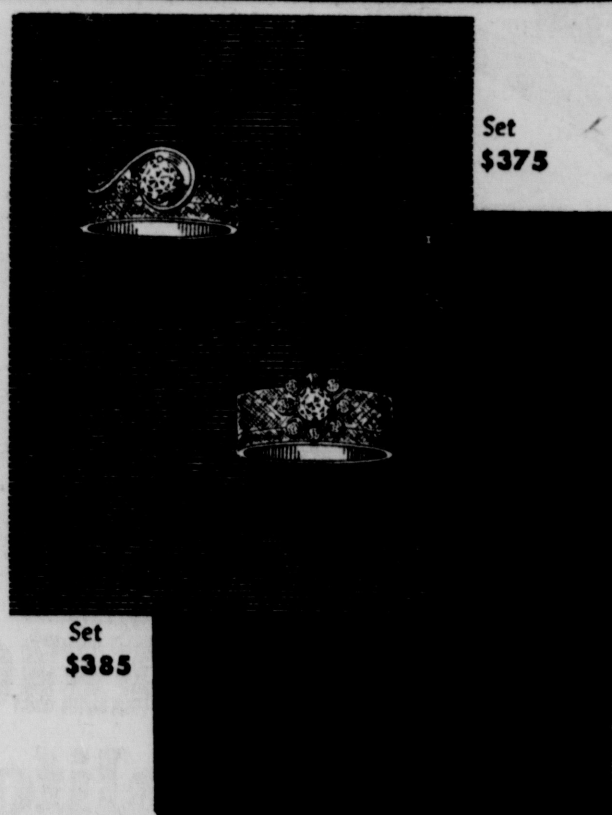

"The most important single element in a song is the words," she says emphatically. "The composer starts with them. They are his original inspiration and the foundation of his work." She sings in seven languages and is fluent in French and German. It is her ability to enjoy the subtlety of the songs which helps make her one of today's most important singers.

Section One Bowl Bids for Kingston, Saugerties

By IRA FUSFELD

KINGSTON The high school football season is not over yet. Both Kingston and Saugerties have been invited to play in Section One's first two bowl games, the Maroons in Class A and the Sawyers in Class B.

Kingston will meet fourth-rated White Plains in Portchester and Saugerties will take on Eastchester at Ketcham High, Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

The decision was made by a first, each had only eight games of another game went in the direction of "challenging" North Rockland, a Rockland County powerhouse.

Then last week The Freeman learned from KHS Athletic Director Bill Hurley that Kingston was under consideration for the bowl game by the sectional committee but that no formal announcement would be made for fear of placing added pressure on the Maroon players as they readied for Newburgh.

Kingston fans were especially aware of the chance for another game since the Maroons were sweeping to their best season in more than a decade. KHS was beaten by Newburgh Saturday to conclude the regular season with a 6-2 mark. Several weeks earlier, when Kingston was still undefeated, thoughts of another game went in the direction of "challenging" North Rockland, a Rockland County powerhouse.

Then last week The Freeman learned from KHS Athletic Director Bill Hurley that Kingston was under consideration for the bowl game by the sectional committee but that no formal announcement would be made for fear of placing added pressure on the Maroon players as they readied for Newburgh.

Kingston's inclusion in the schedule because of a postponement.

Saugerties then beat Roosevelt Saturday to post a 6-2 mark, the same as that of Lourdes, Arlington, and Ketcham.

The opponents of the local teams are the lower New York's better aggregations. White Plains, which beat Newburgh earlier in the season, has constantly been highly regarded in the league title a week after the last week. Eastchester had registered a 6-1-1 mark.

Saugerties Coach and Athletic Director Fred Seither was pleased with his team's invitation. "We're honored to be selected. I'm real proud of the team, they've done a fine job all year."

Intricate ticket plans have been organized by both schools for the game.

The Kingston game, which will be played in Portchester's Ryan Stadium, will have two separate sales: advance and pre-sale. Tickets in advance will be available beginning Tuesday priced at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. At the game the prices will be $2 and $1 respectively.

Saugerties tickets are set at 50 cents and will go to the first 500 buyers. Those tickets went up for grabs this morning.

All of which means, don't put away your outdoor garb for still another week.

It Wasn't the Money for Jack and Lee

By DAVID L. LANGFORD

PALM BEACH GARDENS Fla. (UPI) World Cup winners Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino banked only $1,000 each for the prestige victory, which is something like dumping a cup of water in the nearby Atlantic Ocean.

Only Arnold Palmer stands a chance of collecting more money than either this season, and the record may not be matched for years to come.

Trevino threw out the challenge himself Sunday after the U. S. team had collected the trophy in competition with golfers from 46 nations.

"The money record either of us sets this year won't be broken for a long time," said Trevino, who is the PGA's top money winner this year with $227,243 leading Nicklaus by about $20,000. "If either of us finishes with $235,000 or so, it may be years before anyone beats it."

But Sunday it was competitive spirit and not the money that drove the U. S. duo to a 12 stroke victory over the South African team of Gary Player and Harold Henning, who had held the lead halfway through the tournament. The Americans had a team total of 555, the South Africans 567.

"Jack was just fantastic," said Player, just before boarding an airplane for South Africa with no plans to return to the United States tour until next February.

Nicklaus, who had rounds of 68-68-63-71-271 on the tough 7,096-yard PGA course, also collected the international trophy which goes to the individual posting the lowest score in the 19-year-old tournament. Player was seven strokes behind with scores of 69-67-71-71-278.

Trevino, who was 75-69-71-69-284 for the tournament, said he feels he "played as well as anyone out there except Jack," chasing kangaroos, he was back here winning money," said Nicklaus, who spent two weeks in Australia before the World Cup.

Nicklaus said he thought he played better this weekend than he did on the same course in February when he won the PGA championship. "I think the small ball (an optional British ball) was a contributing factor," he said.

"Hell," said Trevino. "He wouldn't have any trouble with a basketball."

MOST HAPPY FELLER — Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino wear broad smiles as they hold the coveted cup after winning the World Cup Tournament in Palm Beach Gardens Sunday. They finished 11 strokes ahead of South Africa's Gary Player and Harold Henning to win the cup for the U. S. in this competition between nations. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Cross-Country Laurels To Section Four

Section IV, scoring 229 points, captured the Class A championship of the state's High School Association's Intersectional Cross Country Run at Onondaga High School Saturday.

Berner High's Tom Cappellozzo raced to a record 12:22 for individual honors and led Section VIII to a third place finish.

Section II was seventh; Section XI, eighth; section IX, ninth; and Section X, tenth.

In Class B competition, Section XI took the Class C crown. Section teams were composed of the section champions plus the top seven finishers from other schools in the sectional meets.

New York State High School Association Intersectional Cross Country Run

Section IV placed three men in the top ten, with Vestal's Steve Wynne in second at 12:25. Tom Hartshorne of Ithaca fourth in 12:40, and Union-Endicott's Keith Solomon fifth in 12:40.

John Cabell of Kingston was the event's tenth place runner, clocking 12:56. Cabell teamed with eighth place Phil See of Yorktown to lead Section I to sixth position in intersectional competition.

Second place went to Section III, paced by Ken Molinski, seventh in 12:52. Paul Stemmer of Penfield High ran number three and led Section V to fourth place. Fifth was Section VI.

Rounding out the top ten.

Final Score

1. Tom Cappellozzo (Berner, VIII)	12:22
2. Steve Wynne (Vestal, IV)	12:25
3. Paul Stemmer (Penfield, V)	12:39

Final Saratoga Feature Goes to Grandpa Joe

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The final night of the Saratoga Harness season Saturday saw Grandpa Joe win the $3,000 featured race by 1 1/2 lengths. With Gilles Filion in the bike, the winner made the mile in 2:05 1-5 and paid $5.40.

Poor Farmer placed second and Dashing Dancer was the show horse in the final Saratoga feature.

In other New York State harness racing Saturday, Marlu Pride topped Cathy Lee by three quarters of a length while John Chapman held the winning reins in the featured $20,000 trot at Yonkers Raceway. With a time of 2:03 3-5 for the mile, the winner paid $8.20.

At Batavia Downs, Easy Jim scored a 3 1/2 length victory over Gene Bloss in the featured $6,000 race. The winner paid $9.20 after rounding the mile in 2:03 4-5. Barex was third.

Hawks' Final Victory: A Corporate Affair

NEW PALTZ

The New Palitz Hawks closed out the soccer season with a 6-3 victory over Albany Saturday, with six different players netting the points.

Stan Truman headed a Jacques Mesias kick over the Albany goalie's outstretched hands at the first period's 1.33 mark to get things rolling for New Palitz in a hurry.

Carlos Alvarez scored his first of two at 7:52 to even things up for the visitors, but Jerry Soulios put the Hawks ahead to stay at 14:06, converting a pretty crossing corner kick from Mesias.

After Benny Alberto's Soulios-assisted marker, Bob Sanborn teed off from 30 yards out, launching a screamer into the corner of the net.

The 41 halftime edge was too much for Albany to handle. George Kelseshian notched Albany's third period goal, and Alvarez made his other tally in the final period, but the Hawks kept pace with two scores in the fourth. Barry Forbes beat the goalie one on one with 9:05 elapsed, and Dave Pallotta made a 20 yard shot good with only seconds left in the game.

Exclusive of forfeits incurred when using an ineligible player, the Hawks attained a 7-6-1 season history. It was a winning, but in some respects disappointing year.

"We had high hopes, but they went by the wayside," mused Bob Durkin, the New Palitz coach. "Still, I think the boys deserve a pat on the back. We lost three games by one point, and considering the other hurdles we had to surmount, I felt they came back very well."

For next season's team, Durkin will have a good nucleus to build on. Returning are Mesias, Pallotta, Truman, Soulios, Alberto, Ronsen and John McMahon.

Kickers Win Over G-A, 6 to 3

MORGAN HILL. Bolstered by the return of their Ulster County Community College players, the Kingston Sport Club Kickers overwhelmed a favored German-American team to score a 6-3 victory at Oehler's Soccer Stadium Sunday.

None of the UCCC booters, who finished the season earlier in the week, dented the scoring column, but their presence gave Kingston added strength, the likes of which it hadn't shown all year.

The four, Sig Samuelson, Carl McDonald, Fernando Nasmyth and Klaus Weber, helped the Kickers put the pressure on the New York visitors in a first half when Kingston built a 4-0 lead. Arnaldo Richards made it 1-0 for the Kickers as he knocked in a beautiful pass from Jimmy Reinhardt at five minutes into the contest.

Then Gino Ventriglia, the former All-American from New Paltz State who had been in the midst of a goal drought, scored at 20 minutes, the first of a three-goal hat trick.

Ventriglia did it again at 28 minutes and 88 minutes. Speedy Bernie Schaeffer scored a pair for Kingston, at 32 minutes and 52 minutes.

The German-American managed a rally in the second half with three relatively quick tallies. Helmar Link scored at 50 minutes, followed by Hans Hill at 58 minutes, and Gerhard Hagn at 62 minutes.

"They regrouped early in the second half," said Kingston Coach Henry Ingber speaking about the German-Americans. "The Kingston defense couldn't find itself and the visitors took the advantage. Halfway through the second half Kingston settled down."

Ingber was especially pleased with the play of Ventriglia and Schaeffer on offense, and Reinhardt, McDonald and Nasmyth on defense.

It was Kingston's first official win of the year making its record 1-8. A previous victory was nullified and declared a forfeit.

The lineups:
Kingston (4): Goal Samuelson; Defense Reinhardt, Nasmyth, McDonald, Schaeffer; Forward Weber.
G-A (3): Goal Gallwitz; Defense Hill, Bussie, Hollsteimer; Forward Koester, Dennis, Rotcoll.
Link, Tremmel, Hagn, Schwebel, Stollhoff.

Wrigley Denies Contact With Whitey Lockman

CHICAGO (UPI)—So who would you guess is running the Chicago Cubs?

Owner Phil Wrigley said today that he hasn't talked to Whitey Lockman in months. So, he added, Lockman isn't the new manager for the Chicago Cubs.

General Manager John Holland said he hasn't hired Lockman as manager of the Cubs.

But neither Wrigley nor Holland would say that Leo Durocher was the manager of the Cubs.

Their comment stemmed from an exclusive story by United Press International columnist Milt Richman Saturday that Lockman has the job.

Stamp Users On Decrease In Area

A decrease in the number of food stamp users across the state is reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the month of September, but figures show that increases occurred in Columbia, Orange, Greene, Rockland counties and in the City of Poughkeepsie.

Ulster and Dutchess counties showed a decrease with 341 less persons in Ulster receiving stamps and six less in Dutchess County.

The greatest decrease was in New York City with 46,000 fewer persons applying for stamps. A decrease of 480 is also reported in Sullivan County.

Statewide, 1.2 million low income persons benefited in the federal family food assistance program during September. This represented a loss of 61,749 persons compared to August.

According to the USDA's Northeast Regional Food and Nutrition Service in New York City, these persons paid $19,384, 25 for stamps valued at $29,511, 745. The $19 million difference or bonus value of the coupons is USDA's contribution to the program and is designed to provide participants with more and better food.

Among the total number of participants, 20 per cent of 242, 743 persons did not receive public assistance payments.

In Ulster County in September, 4,764 persons participated receiving coupons valued at $11,660 compared with August when 5,105 persons participated and received $120,467 in value.

LEGAL NOTICES

United States Department of Agriculture, Agricultural Research Service, Maryland, October 18, 1971. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that effective October 22, 1971, the Director of the Plant Protection Division has amended the European charter supplemental regulation designating regulated areas (7 CFR 301.22-27). The amendment extends the regulated area in some previously regulated counties by adding the following: the city of Peabody in Essex County, Massachusetts; the town of Westmoreland in Oneida County, the town of Romulus in Seneca County, the town of Hornellsville and the city of Hornell in Steuben County, and the towns of Warburton, Rochester, and Wawarsing in Ulster County in New York; and the township of Hanover and the borough of Emmaus in Lehigh County, Pennsylvania. Copies of the revised regulation may be obtained from the Plant Protection Division, Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Federal Center Building, Hyattsville, Maryland 20782.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
The County Superintendent of Highways, located at 400 West South Main Avenue, Kingston, New York, until 10:00 a.m. on the 22nd day of November 1971, sealed bids for the following Street Paving to be delivered to the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, 150 West O'Reilly St., Kingston, New York, on or before 10:00 a.m. on November 16, 1971.

Seven (7) Steel Pipes, 32 feet long by 30 inches in diameter and 1/2 inch thick wall.

Material shall be new or used, in good condition, and inspected before delivery by County Superintendent.

All material shall be furnished in lengths as specified.

The price shown in the bidder's proposal shall indicate the price for delivery of material to the site of the project, including all taxes, and delivery of material to the site of the project, including all taxes, and delivery of material to the site of the project, including all taxes.

The Acting County Superintendent of Highways reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and to award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder.

TO: ATTORNEY GENERAL, THE PEOPLE'S INSURANCE COMPANY, 100 West O'Reilly St., Kingston, New York.

ROE, the said names John Doe and Jane Roe being fictitious and being intended to designate any and all persons who may be named in the above captioned matter.

YOU AND EACH OF YOU ARE HEREBY CITED TO SHOW CAUSE at a Surrogate's Court to be held in the County of Ulster in the City of Kingston, New York, on the 22nd day of November, 1971, at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why the account of the proceedings of Fred H. Dubois, Surrogate of the County of Ulster and State of New York, as public administrator of the estate of John Doe, should not be judicially settled and allowed upon the petition of said Fred H. Dubois.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we have caused the seal of said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed.

WITNESS, Hon. ARTHUR A. DAVIS Jr., Surrogate of our said County of Ulster, in Kingston, New York, this 4th day of November, 1971.

MATTHEW WEISHAUPT Jr., Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

LEGAL NOTICE
PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that a Public Hearing will be held at the Town of Ulster, Oneida Building (the former State Police Barracks) on Route 9W in Lake Katrine, N.Y., on Monday, November 22, 1971 at 7:30 p.m.

The hearing will be on Proposed Local Law No. 1 of 1971 which would amend the Town of Ulster, Oneida Building (the former State Police Barracks) on Route 9W in Lake Katrine, N.Y., on Monday, November 22, 1971 at 7:30 p.m.

By Order of the Town Board of the Town of Ulster, New York, ALMA M. FREDERICK, Town Clerk of Ulster.

LEGAL NOTICE
TO: JOHN DOE and MARY ROE, if living, and if deceased, to their executors, administrators, distributees, heirs or heirs at law who may survive them.

Two Booked On Charges of Obstruction

Two young men cited for vehicle and traffic violations by police later were booked early today on charges of obstructing governmental administration after they allegedly created a disturbance at City Hall.

Stewart J. Sharot, 24, of 153 Ten Broeck Avenue, this city, was cited for driving a car with an inadequate muffler. William C. Ashcroft, 22, of Box 14, Rifton, was summoned for operating a car in a reckless manner, driving a car with tires that made unnecessary noises and making an unsafe start.

Police said the two men were at headquarters being booked for the traffic violations when they reportedly became abusive and caused a disturbance. The other charge was filed against each of the men who were scheduled to appear in City Court.

Your Horoscope

Tuesday November 16

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Wind up whatever you have not completely finished for you are into those little entertainments now right at the end of an old moon. By so doing you will be able tomorrow to plan your future wisely, with a free mind to attend to those interesting new arrangements that await your attention. Keep plugging.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to May 20) Make certain you fulfill every promise you have made to others and show everyone you are punctilious and conscientious. Please mate also instead of forgetting to do what is expected of you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Stop trying to get out of some agreement you have made with an associate and you will reap profits from it. Take care you do not go in some practical joke at the expense of an innocent person. Show you are kind instead.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Delve right into all that work that is a pain in the neck but has to be handled if you are to get the benefits you want from it. Don't make some mistake that could cause much damage, though. Use caution.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Ideal day to get into those little entertainments that you like with charming friends who have same tastes. Make those last-minute preparations that will insure the success of that party you are planning.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Lend a helping hand to those at home and help them gain their cherished aims. You can rid yourself of tensions easily without making a big production of them. Use your charm to good advantage.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't procrastinate in doing that shopping that is most necessary. Spend your money wisely. Come to the right decisions before handling correspondence. Use right wording.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Use good judgment in taking care of all those monetary affairs at hand right now. An expert can give you fine suggestions, so be sure to ask for them. Avoid some risky venture, though.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Be somewhat subjective about handling personal affairs and those new ideas are best put in operation tomorrow, so do far less effort than otherwise. Make your appearance more charming. Bring out whatever is your finest trait, characteristic.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Problems come up that require your undivided attention in order to solve them properly. Don't voice your ideas to others or they can pirate them and you lose out. Get rid of tensions by being reasonable with everyone.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Tell good associates that you will help them with their projects and ideas that are of a practical nature. Get into group affairs that can be productive of right results. Steer clear of one who has eye on your assets.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Busy yourself at work ahead of you and get out of that sea of despondency that keeps you unhappy and could make others that way, too. Jump into that project that pleases you. Work with a vengeance and all will be fine for you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those interesting, young people who loves to study others or they can pirate them and see how they function, which is fine, provided it is not done to such an extent that he or she becomes merely a looker-on and not a doer. Give as fine an education as you can and then this becomes a fascinating chart, since your child has the ability to solve problems, hand-cult matters that are very difficult for others. Success comes early in this life.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

REMEDY: (Q.) Last spring my boy friend gave me my "final notice." I spent like what felt forever moping about it. Then a few weeks ago I had a brilliant idea.

One lonely Saturday night I wrote myself a letter and tacked it on my bulletin board, where I could see it every morning. This is what it said:

"Was I ever happy then! But I was also one first-class idiot to think that it would last forever. That's one mistake I won't ever make again."

"Maybe I was slow to get the message, but I see the light now. I'm still sorry and I'm still sad, but he'll never know it if I can help it! So, smile, girl! The world hasn't ended."

You have no idea how this has helped me. Well, what do you think of it?—Smiling Again at Last in New Jersey.

(A.) Enough to publish it. Let's just hope it can help stop a lot of sad girls from moping!

HAIR SCARE: (Q.) I have fairly long hair that comes down over my ears. It has me scared, though. Every time I comb it I find long strands in my comb. This has been happening for a couple of months. I don't use any kind of hair dressing. Is there anything I can do to keep it from coming out?—Falling Fast in Pennsylvania.

(A.) Quit worrying. There's really nothing effective you can do if you indeed are losing your hair. All of us shed hair regularly. With some it comes back fast enough to replace itself. With others it doesn't. If it doesn't, it just doesn't.

So enjoy it while you have it. If you lose too much, there are many good-looking men's hairpieces to choose from. Long ones, too.

Aid Chief Calls for Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. foreign aid chief John A. Hannah says the time has come when "the American people, through the Congress, better face up to whether or not we're going to play a role in the world."

"I don't think the United States can be a drop-out," added Hannah in an interview conducted as Congress debated what to do about the foreign aid program.

The Senate voted Oct. 29 to kill the annual aid bill, then reversed itself after strong administration urging and passed a two-bill aid package last Thursday. In the House, Foreign Affairs Committee Chairman Thomas E. Morgan said he hopes to pass a new bill this week.

Meanwhile, legal authorization for the aid-administering Agency for International Development is slated to expire tonight. Administration and congressional statements differ over how soon AID's thousands of employees here and abroad would have to go payless in the absence of new legislation.

Dr. Hannah, former Michigan State University president who has headed AID since early in the Nixon administration, said both the economic and the defense-related aid in the administration's $3.4-billion request are in the American interest.

On foreign economic assistance, he said: "I'm convinced that the first interest for most Americans is what's my city or my state going to be like for my children and my grand children?"

"This is a shrinking world," he said, "and it ought to be clear from what happened in the last 30 or 40 years that what happens to any significantly large segment of the world's population is going to have a profound effect on what happens to the United States."

He said there is no assurance that U.S. aid will guarantee peace or foreign gratitude, "but we can be reasonably certain that the chances are better if we do what we can to help well-intentioned people to help themselves more in the direction of putting the primary emphasis on better lives for people."

On defense-connected aid, Hannah said a drastic cut would accomplish the Communist goal of collapsing South Vietnam's Thieu government now that "we have about reached the point where Vietnam may be able to stand on her own feet."

Senate Resumes Work on Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate resumes work today on an expanded $19.5-billion tax-cut bill with leaders driving to win final passage by Wednesday.

The biggest obstacle to that goal could be a Democratic proposal for federal financing of presidential campaigns, which could be expected to touch off a bitter battle between money-starved Democrats and well-financed Republicans.

But the Democratic leadership isn't sure that rider will be offered.

Another fight could develop over various proposals to add to the tax bill riders increasing Social Security benefits.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the lines of one he sponsored in 1966. He said a decision will be reached early in the week on whether the amendment will be offered.

It was understood the provision might guarantee each major party's presidential nomination $18 million in a national election and a third-party contender $6 million.

The money could be raised by allowing each taxpayer to indicate on his tax return that $1 of his payment should be used for the campaign-financing fund.

Long got a similar plan enacted in 1966 with the strong backing of then-President Lyndon B. Johnson. But a coalition of Republicans and a few Democrats succeeded in nullifying it in 1967 after a Senate floor battle lasting six weeks.

In a major test on the tax-cut bill Saturday, the Senate turned down 53 to 13 an attempt by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., to eliminate more than half the benefits of the 7-per-cent investment credit.

President Nixon is counting on restoration of this credit to help greatly in the drive to make American companies more competitive in world markets.

Butz Severs Ties With Big Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — Earl L. Butz, secretary-designate of agriculture, says he is severing his ties with business, but his decision failed to mollify Senate critics.

Opposition to Senate confirmation of Butz developed around charges that he favors big business over the family farmer, and that his directorships with the four companies might represent conflicts of interest.

Butz agreed that retaining the directorships would create potential conflicts, and said in an interview Sunday night he is resigning all business connections and placing his stocks in a blind trust. He labeled his critics' charges as "political statements."

Butz, 62, of Lafayette, Ind., said he has notified the Ralston Purina Co., International Minerals and Chemicals Co., Stokely Van-Camp Co. and the Standard Life Insurance Co. of Indiana he is resigning from their boards. Written resignations will be submitted in a few days, he said.

His position on the board of the J.I. Case Co., a farm-equipment manufacturer, was terminated about a year ago when the firm merged with Tenneco Corp., he said.

"That's not enough," said Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla. "It's a matter dating back to the time of Ezra Taft Benson. He's been on the side of big business."

Butz, dean of continuing education at Purdue University, was an assistant agriculture secretary under Benson during the Eisenhower administration.

"He's the best example of the big, rich corporation against the small farmer," Harris said. "Getting rid of that stock is not going to change that."

Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., said "I think his interests would be about the same" despite resignations from business connections. "I don't think a man should have been appointed in the first place who had all those long-time interests," Young continued.

Two large farmers' organizations split in their evaluation of Butz, nominated by President Nixon to succeed resigning Clifford M. Hardin.

National Grange delegates, meeting in Charleston, W.Va., expressed support for Butz, and Grange National Master John W. Scott said, "I think Dr. Butz has a knowledgeable understanding of farm problems and can intelligently direct his efforts toward general improvement of the agriculture industry."

In Corning, Iowa, the president of the National Farmers Organization said Butz would "throw government support toward a policy of liquidating all but 600,000 farmers, hundreds of thousands of rural community businesses, and thousands of our small towns."

NFO chief Oren Lee Staley said he has asked Senate Agriculture Committee Chairman Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., for permission to testify in opposition to Butz at committee hearings.
